

A DAY OFF AT SPARTAN GYMNASTICS

For the most recent Professional Development Day, Spartan Gymnastics hosted a special PD Day camp in their 6,500-square-foot gymnastics facility. Parents dropped off their little monkeys of all ages at the jungle-like space on Jutland Rd. to enjoy a tumbling time complete with instruction and spotting. Aside from the gymnastics, the youngsters also explored their creative sides with some cupcake and cookie decorating. It was a delicious event all around. Spartan Gymnastics enjoyed hosting this unique camp and is looking forward to hosting another one on Friday, December 9th. For information about Spartan Gymnastics and their upcoming Christmas camp, call 416-837-0342 or visit spartangymnastics.com

Emma climbs high

Having a bounce on the trampolines

The helicopter guy is a high-flying hit at kids' birthday parties

Event by Danielle Rabbat
Event code: pebjev

Tia & Isabelle are happy with their creations

Tai is about to enjoy his cupcake

SPARTAN GYMNASTICS STRIKES A BLOW TO ALZHEIMER'S

In early February, Spartan Gymnastics invited one and all to their open house party and fundraiser for the Alzheimer Society. Hundreds of parents and their energetic children attended the benevolent bash. There were plenty of activities to keep the kids entertained at the spacious facility including bouncy obstacle courses, face painting, trampoline games and cookie decorating. Thanks to the sponsors and the generous attendees, Spartan Gymnastics raised hundreds of dollars for the worthy cause. For information on upcoming programs at Spartan Gymnastics, visit spartangymnastics.com or call 416-837-0342. They are located at 35 Jutland Road.

Event by Jerry R. Lem
Event code: pecSfa

Friends gathering for a good cause: Aldo, Amie & Geoff

Big kids Marguerite & Melissa join in on the fun

Helena gives us a great smile

Catching some air!

A hair-raising good time